Update on Full-time Serving Saints

These past few months have been quite busy for the team as a whole--the Summer Training in Anaheim, the Summer College Training in Ohio, children's camp, SSoT, and the BfC gospel trip. With the beginning of school just around the corner, there are more events on the way--Family time, the church BBQ, the Corporate Living meeting, Welcome Week tabling at McGill and Concordia, and welcome dinners for the students. To be sure, there was much grace for the past events and there will be abundant grace for the coming ones, but it is also undeniable that a number on the team are physically exhausted. How we need the Lord's watering and the saints' prayer and support! Please also remember that all of the events mentioned above are open to all the saints. More details will be posted in subsequent newsletters or just don't hesitate to ask!

III. WHAT TO DO IN THE EARLY MORNING (continued)

C. Read the Bible

The early morning is the time for us to gather the manna (which is Christ). What does it mean to eat the manna? It means to enjoy Christ, to enjoy God's Word, and to enjoy His truth early in the morning every day. After we eat the manna, we have the strength to journey in the wilderness. The early morning is the time to gather the manna. One will not be fed spiritually or be satisfied if he spends his early morning on other things.

We have mentioned already that we should have two Bibles, one with marks and notes in it to use in the afternoon and the other with nothing in it for "eating manna" early in the morning. In the early morning, do not read too much and do not take many portions of the Word. Instead, read a single portion of the Bible carefully, always mingling your reading with unceasing communion with God and singing. This does not mean that you should fellowship with God first, praise second, and then read the Bible last. You have to blend all these things together. At the same time you should also pray. Come to God's presence and open His Word. As you read, you may be convicted to confess your sins. As you read certain portions, you may be touched by His grace to offer up thanksgiving. You can also pray to God concerning what you have read in the Word. You can say, "Lord, this is truly what I need. This portion, this verse, this word, truly exposes my lack. Lord, fill up this lack of mine." When you find a promise, you can say, "Lord, I believe in this promise." When you find grace, you can say, "Lord, I take this grace." You can also intercede. While you are reading, you may remember the condition of those who fall short of what this portion says. You should not accuse or criticize them. Instead, you should pray, "God, fulfill this word in me. Fulfill this word also in my brother and sister." You can confess your sins and the sins of others. You can pray for yourself and for others. You can believe for yourself and for others. You can give thanks for yourself and for others. Your Bible reading in the morning should not be too long; it should not cover too much. Two, three, four, or five verses are sufficient. You can dwell on them for an hour. As you read these verses word by word, pray over them, and commune with God through them, you will be filled.
