

Pray for:

- ✿ Rome: conference and first Lord's Table on June 17; that there might be at least twelve native Italians by that time in the church; healthy growth of the church in life and in numbers; that more saints would migrate, especially younger sisters; that Rhema contacts might be shepherded into the church life; legal registration of the church in Rome.
- ✿ Armenia: Purchase of land and funds for building meeting hall in Yerevan next to three universities; prevailing testimony of the local churches in the face of persecution by the Orthodox Church; that the 13 churches would be genuine golden lampstands.
- ✿ Preparation for summer activities: Summer training and video training; college training; Bibles for Canada distribution; children's camp; summer school of truth.
- ✿ Quebec: Continued shepherding of contacts in Quebec City, Granby and Trois-Rivières; raising up of churches in these cities in the Lord's time and in the Lord's way.
- ✿ College and university saints: That the outcome of the student strike would preserve many fish for the gospel in the campuses; that our students be preserved and grow in life and truth this summer; that families in the church open their homes to shepherd students; that the Lord establish a club at McGill this year.
- ✿ Pray for various local needs, including saints in Montreal, contacts, and those in need of care and shepherding.

II. RESTORING THE BROTHER

D. Telling Others

Verse 16 says, "But if he does not hear you, take with you one or two more, that by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established." If you go to him by yourself and speak to him with a proper motive, a good attitude, and gentle words, and he still does not hear you, then go and tell others about it. However, you must tell someone else only after he has rejected your words. You must not tell others loosely.

If a problem arises between two of God's children and if both of them go to the Lord and deal with it, everything will be solved easily. But suppose one is not careful with his words and the problem spreads to the ear of a third person. The problem will be compounded, and it will be hard to solve. If there is no contamination of a wound, the healing process is relatively simple. If dirt gets into a wound, not only does the level of pain increase, but the dirt makes it harder for the wound to heal. Unnecessarily spreading a problem to a third person is like adding dirt to a wound. Any problems between the brothers and sisters should be dealt with directly by the involved persons. The only time we should tell another person or persons is when one party will not receive the admonition. The purpose of telling others is not to multiply the gossip but to invite others to exhort, help, and fellowship together.

The "one or two more" here should be experienced persons in the Lord; they should be those who are weighty in their spiritual measure. You should present the case before them and ask for their opinions. They should check whether the fault lies with the offending one. The mature ones should pray and consider the matter before the Lord and then arbitrate according to their spiritual discernment. If they feel that the fault lies with the offending brother, they should go to that brother and say, "You are wrong in this matter. By doing this you have cut yourself off from the Lord. You must repent and confess."

"That by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established." The "one or two more" must not have a loose tongue. Do not invite talkative persons to such a meeting. Talkative ones can never convince people; instead, invite those who are trustworthy, honest, spiritual, and experienced before the Lord. In this way every word will be established by the mouth of two or three witnesses.
